NFC Media Station

The flexible way to present your creative ideas

Robust and versatile multi-touch screens tuomi's hardware is beautifully slim. That is great for you because it gives you the flexibility to design your media stations the way you want. Choose a multi-touch screen size that is best for you. Add an acrylic glass panel for optimal protection without restricting the touchscreen functionality. It's the perfect solution for any scenario.

Always up to date – for every audience

Changing the content is quick and convenient. An easy to use, browser-based content management system lets you change, enhance, extend, and correct the contents shown on your dorengo media station – any time you want. All you need is a WiFi connection. Keep your exhibits alive and fresh – with new insights and information always immediately available at the media station.

Creative content – quickly and easily implemented dorengo's modular system gives you the freedom to design your content the way you want. This includes a wide range of templates and other possibilities, including image sliders, videos, interactive images and much more. Our flexible templates can be adapted to fit your corporate design while still ensuring that the navigation remains simple and intuitive.

The intelligent media station

Some visitors enjoy being able to touch objects. Others enjoy in-depth digital content. tuomi media stations are special because their integrated NFC technology combines these elements. Special admission tickets or intelligent objects made to be touched are connected with digital content. It is a playful, intuitive experience and child's play to operate.

dorengo promotes accessibility

Media stations are for everybody. Barrier free content is automatically called up as soon as an intelligent NFC object is placed on a tactile NFC marker. This is a great way to make exhibits accessible and barrier free. And users can customise the font size, brightness and contrast to meet their needs, or call up audio descriptions or sign language videos.
